Murder Suicide by Keith Ablow

Drawing upon his real-life experience of evaluating and treating criminals, Ablow delivers a chilling story featuring forensic psychiatrist Frank Clevenger, who ventures into a dead man's dark past to unearth the truth in an explosive mystery of passion and betrayal. Also try Psychopath or The Architect.

The Camel Club by David Baldacci

It exists at the fringes of Washington, D.C., has no power, and consists solely of four eccentric and down-trodden members whom society has forgotten. Their simple goal is to find the "truth" behind their country's actions. One man leads this aging, ragtag crew. He has no known past and has taken the name "Oliver Stone." Day and night, Stone and his friends study wild conspiracy theories, current events, and the machinations of government, hoping to discover some truth that will hold America's leaders accountable to its citizens. ### Eureka by William Diehl

Two decades after a young Thomas Culhane escaped Eureka, California, to fight in World War I, police detective Zeke Bannon investigates a seemingly accidental death and uncovers dark secrets from the past that could threaten Culhane's campaign for governor of California. Also try Primal Fear.

Red Dragon by Thomas Harris

Red Dragon was the world's first peek at the monstrously intelligent psychiatrist, in this story of a behavioral scientist's pursuit of a brutal serial killer who targets entire families during the full moon. The narrative alternates between agent Will Graham's investigations and the chillingly warped psyche of multiple murderer Francis Dolarhyde, with the imprisoned Lecter manipulating both men. Like the best of Deaver's reluctant detectives, Graham's unwanted ability to place himself in the mind of the killer at each grisly crime scene leads him to details that begin to add up to an identity; all the while, the relentless calendar puts him under a deadline to find either the killer or his next victims. Also try Silence of the Lambs or Hannibal.

Rage by Jonathan Kellerman

Troy Turner and Rand Duchay were barely teenagers when they kidnapped and murdered a younger child. Troy, a remorseless sociopath, died violently behind bars. But the hulking, slow-witted Rand managed to survive his stretch. Now, at age twenty-one, he's emerged a haunted, rootless young man with a pressing need: to talk - once again - with psychologist Alex Delaware. But when the young killer comes to a brutal end, that conversation is silenced forever. Also try Twisted or The Murder Book.
