WAKE GOVERNMENT AND COURTS FUNCTIONS TO RELOCATE

The Wake County Justice Center, 300 South Salisbury St., Raleigh, will open ahead of schedule and about $30 million under budget this summer. The building will serve as a prominent place for residents to participate in the judicial system, access public records and engage in local government activities. Services in the Justice Center will open in phases between Wednesday, June 12, 2013, and Monday, July 1, 2013.

Starting on Wednesday, June 12, 2013, the Justice Center will be open Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Each person entering the Justice Center will be required to go through security screening. Weapons and items such as mace, scissors and knives are prohibited in the Justice Center.

The Register of Deeds and Revenue Department will be the first County services to relocate, and will open in the Justice Center on Wednesday, June 12, 2013. The Register of Deeds will be closed Monday, June 10, and Tuesday, June 11, 2013, for the move. Regular sessions of all traffic and Criminal Court proceedings will begin on Tuesday, July 2, 2013.

The County government, court and courts' services listed below are moving to the Justice Center. Services that are not listed will remain in their current location.
