DISCUSS TRANSIT PLAN OPTIONS AT HUMAN SERVICES LOCATIONS

The Wake County Transit Strategy partners are inviting residents to learn about four transit plan options and provide feedback at six Wake County Human Services locations. Residents can drop by the booths to learn about the options during the hours indicated below.

Brochures will be available in English and Spanish and there will be speakers of both languages at the booths.

The options were unveiled during a Choose Our Transit event on Monday, May 11, 2015. Regional and community events have already begun with more events planned through the summer.

The Human Services locations hosting transit events include:

Monday, June 15, 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

Swinburne

“We want to hear from Wake County residents about their thoughts on the transit plan options,” said Tim Maloney, Director, Wake County Planning, Development and Inspections. “The partners have helped educate residents throughout the County and have received great feedback. We will continue to gather feedback through the summer.”

After attending an event or reviewing a brief video, residents are asked to share what they like and do not like about each of the four options via a survey available at WakeTransit.com (English, Spanish). Paper copies can be completed at each town hall and library in Wake County.
