WIDESPREAD LAND LINE PHONE OUTAGES AFFECTING THE AREA

Widespread service outages are affecting land line phones in some areas across the county, and users may experience sporadic difficulty making or receiving calls. Any land line phone in the affected area may be impacted, including those at Wake County Government facilities.

Wake County is working with our telecommunications providers to minimize service disruptions and restore service as soon as possible, although there is not yet have an estimated time of repair. In the meantime, citizens are encouraged to continue trying to reach county offices by phone, or by using alternate methods such as cell phone, email or in-person visits.
