New WIC Office Opens in Cary

To better serve clients closer to home, Wake County today opened a new office for the Women, Infants and Children program in Cary. The new WIC office is located at 111 James Jackson Ave., Suite 201, in Cary.

“We are excited to welcome our WIC clients at our new location,” said Safa Hamad, WIC program manager. “The new location will make it easier for our clients who live or work in Cary, Morrisville, Apex or Holly Springs to access services and receive important health and nutrition benefits that will help their families be healthier.”

WIC is a nutrition program that helps working families with supplemental foods, breastfeeding support, nutrition education, and referrals to health care and other services. In addition to pregnant women and new moms, children up to 5 years old may be eligible for WIC benefits. Grandparents, foster parents and dads can also access WIC benefits for their families.

The new office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. To make an appointment, call 919-250-4720.

Extended evening and weekend hours are also available at other WIC locations.

WIC is an equal opportunity provider.
