Wake County Identifies COVID-19 Outbreak at Long-Term Care Facility in Cary

Wake County Public Health has confirmed an outbreak of COVID-19 at Brookdale MacArthur Park, a senior living center located at 111 MacArthur Drive in Cary. No additional information about residents or employees within the facility will be disclosed.

The N.C. Department of Health and Human Services defines an outbreak as two or more people – residents or employees – testing positive for the virus.

Under Gov. Cooper's Phase 2.5, assisted living facilities and nursing homes that experience new outbreaks must fall back to the previous restrictions and not allow visitors for 28 days.

In addition, the county recommends that these facilities should follow the N.C. Department of Health and Human Services guidelines, which include:

- Ensuring staff wear the appropriate personal protective equipment at all times;
- Restricting employees from working at other locations;
- Practicing social distancing when possible; and
- Frequently cleaning surfaces with disinfectant.
